

PhD Theses supervised by Prof. Dr. Marc Chesney, 2008–2023

Climate Change, Biodiversity Losses and Financial Risks

Zheng Jiani Isabelle
2023

Three Essays on the Impact of Sustainable Investing

Heeb Florian
2022

Information disclosure, competition, and sustainability in retail financial markets

Krakow Nils Jonathan
2021

Financing the energy transition: the impact of a changing power sector on investors

Hörnlein Lena
2020

Essays in sustainable finance

Vargas Carlos Alberto
2019

The Pricing of Uncertain Information: From the Lab, to Derivatives Markets, to State-contingent Sovereign Debt

Fattinger Felix
2017

Essays on Optimal Investments in the Mitigation of Global Warming

Troja Bruno
2016

Option pricing and market risk management in the presence of jump risk

Vasiljevic Nikola
2016

Three Essays on Sustainable Investing in Private Wealth Management: Barriers for Sustainable Investing in the Cognition and Decision Making Processes of Private Wealth Holders and Investment Advisors

Paetzold Falko
2015

Contributions to the Economics of Climate Change Mitigation

Pana Anca Claudia
2015

Essays in Finance

Puhan Tatjana-Xenia
2014

Essays on the Pricing and Modeling of Derivatives and Risk-taking Incentives

Stromberg Jacob
2013

Three essays inferring prospective and retrospective information based on options trading activities and a new theoretical approach on multivariate subordinati of Lévy processes

Crameri Remo
2010

Risk and return in the Swiss property market

Constantinescu Mihnea
2009

Assessing and managing operational risk with a special emphasis on terrorism risk

Reshetar Ganna
2008

An Empirical and Theoretical Study on Emission Permits
Taschini Luca
2008